Object

IN this seminar we examine the application of Contract Law principles to the Building and Construction industry; The cluster of documents making up the Agreement will be examined together with the central concepts addressed in the documents.

It is intended that this session will be of invaluable assistance to those who draft and work with these documents.

We will compare key aspects of various Standard Form contracts in use in Australia; Identify issues to address in drafting and negotiating such Standard form building contract documents.

We also set out and discuss the statutory framework within which the industry operates

Recent developments in the law and regulation of the building and construction industry are a central part of our focus at these seminars.
